SUMMARY

A result driven, self-motivated and resourceful Quantity Surveyor with a career spanning almost 20 years of diligently managing construction costs and administering contracts for new build, planned and reactive maintenance works. He has extensive experience, mainly involving projects of up to US$15 million in health, education, residential and office works for a wide variety of clients and employers in various local authorities, central governments and non-governmental organizations (NGO's). His ability to communicate effectively with clients and contractors even as he works as part of a team or independently to enhance value for money while maintaining quality and standards gives me the confidence that he would be a valuable asset to any organization.
